NAB MAN BELIEVED INVOLVED IN BANK ROBBERY, KIDNAPING

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., April 15—(UP)—West Virginia state police and an FBI agent arrested Roy Mann, 26, as he slept at his home at near-by Sabraton, W. Va., today in connection with a $5,000 bank holdup and the kidnapping of two Weirton, W. Va., police officers.

Sgt. D. E. Adams of the state police here said Mann was arrested at the request of Pennsylvania authorities. The officers routed Mann out of bed at 5 a. m.

Capt. Andrew Hudock of the Pennsylvania state police at Greensburg, Pa., said he had a "tip" Mann might be one of three young desperados who held up the bank of Follansbee, W. Va., Wednesday and escaped with more than $5,000. He said he had definite information that two other bandits were "heading south."

Sgt. Adams said Mann gave up without a struggle. No firearms were found in the house, but a handful of .32 caliber pistol shells was in a pocket of Mann's jacket.

An unidentified woman in the house with Mann was not taken into custody.

Capt. Hudock said that he was almost certain that the other two bandits are Carl Kloss, 30, of Pittsburgh and James Bennett, 25, Latrobe, Pa.

He said Mann, Kloss and Bennett were also linked with the $100 holdup of a store at Ligonier, Pa., last Tuesday.

Capt. Hudock said that Leroy Howell, 17, an AWOL soldier arrested yesterday in a stolen automobile, probably had no connection with the holdups. He said Howell had been under suspicion because the automobile had been stolen in Ohio near the place where Lt. Al Russell and Patrolman James Herman were found handcuffed to cherry trees yesterday.

Manhunt Is On

The manhunt in Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois was stepped up in Weirton, W. Va., yesterday. Three men picked up as suspects in the Follansbee robbery overpowered Lt. Al Russell and Patrolman James Herman at the city jail, forced the officers into a car and raced into Ohio.

Herman and Russell later were found shackled to two cherry trees on a farm near Hanoverton, O., about 35 miles north of here. George Betz, owner of the farm, and his two sons, Allen and Leroy, were forced to cut down the two trees to free the officers.

Russell said both he and Herman "expected to be shot" when the bandits threatened them with cocked guns.

Another angle turned up yesterday when police learned that a miner, driving home from work, had been forced at the point of guns, to give two hitch-hikers a 23-mile ride.

Police identified the motorist, who claimed he was forced to give the two bandits a ride, as Steve Ornauski of Duncan Wood, O.

Ornauski told officers that he was coming out of Mineral City, O., some 28 miles southwest of where the officers were found, when he spotted a man standing in the middle of the road waving a gun. Another man sat nearby on a guard rail, he said.

Police Hurry to Scene

Ornauski said he picked up the two men and let them out on the southern outskirts of Dennison.

State police, who immediately dispatched cars to the scene, said they picked up a hitchhiker near Cadiz, O., but doubted if he was one of the bandits.

Officers were led to believe the pair might be heading back to West Virginia because one of them asked Ornauski the direction to Wheeling.

GUN MOUNT EXPLODES, THREE DEAD

Destroyer Hollister Has Serious Mishap During Practice Firing

PEARL HARBOR, April 15—(AP)—A gun mount explosion at sea yesterday killed three American seamen aboard the destroyer Hollister and injured 11 more, two critically.

One man, the gun crew captain, was killed in the blast and two others died later. The accident occurred during anti-aircraft practice 40 miles from Pearl Harbor. It blew off the side of the gun mount.

Nine of the injured were treated in Alea naval hospital for minor injuries.

No names were made public immediately.

Capt. Charles T. Singleton, commander of squadron three of which the Hollister is the flagship, said four destroyers were engaged in the anti-aircraft firing.

The din was so terrific, he notified naval authorities, that the explosion was not even noticed. He knew nothing of the accident until he was notified by telephone.

"All we know," he said, "is that there was an explosion in the gun mount during firing of gunnery practice."

The Hollister mounts six five-inch guns. There are three mounts.

The explosion came in the afternoon.

The Hollister arrived only Monday from Yokosuka, Japan. It was enroute to San Diego but stopped over at Pearl Harbor for training with the Hawaiian sea frontier.

Retailers Shoot

For Biggest Easter

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—The nation's retailers are shooting for the biggest Easter season business in their history — and they may hit it.

Final figures tabulated within the next few weeks will tell the story. They might fall a little short of their goal. Even if they do, it still will be an Easter to be remembered for heavy sales and good profits—considerably above a lot of satisfactory pre-war years.

The total of sales and profits actually is secondary right now in the minds of most retailers, especially department stores, clothing and specialty shops.

The big thing is adjustment to the new post-war buyers' market rapidly engulfing business. Can the merchant give customers quality and value they demand at prices they want to pay? The current Easter season is the primary test.

The two have been locked in a bitter court case for 15 months. Finlay charged Duffy and Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer, took unauthorized salary increases.

Duffy and Jordan have appealed a common pleas court decision that cut their weekly salaries from $294 to $181 and $297 to $150 respectively.

Judge Joel H. Sharp also ordered them to make restitution of the excess salary, $8,745 from Duffy, and $3,777 from Jordan.

The union heads claimed a referendum approved their higher pay and this also has been challenged by Finlay, who charged falsification of the vote. The judge has this case under advisement.

Six other incumbents also were re-nominated in the March voting among the locals in about 10 states.

LEETONIA, April 15—Residents were without water since 3 a. m. Thursday due to a break in the water main on Columbia st.

The break is about six feet from a break last year. Superintendent of the water works, Ralph Spawell, hopes to resume water service some time today. Workmen were handicapped by water rushing into the hole and a cave-in.

Schools were dismissed Thursday because of the break.

Kidnaped Officers Are Freed

Patrolman James Herman, left, and Police Lt. Alleg Russell (top photo) are shown after their release yesterday near Hanoverton where two Follansbee, W. Va., bank robbers left them handcuffed to a tree. The officers had been abducted at Weirton. A Hanoverton district farmer, George Betz and his sons, Allen and Leroy, found the officers at 6:30 a. m. Thursday.

The kidnapers are believed to be three men who, with a woman, staged a $5,000 robbery at the Follansbee National bank. Clyde Milton Johnson, 30, and his alleged wife, Billie Glaze (bottom photo), are being sought by police for questioning. Johnson escaped from the Dade county jail in Miami, Fla., March 1. He was arrested on a charge of robbing a Memphis, Tenn., bank.

East Liverpool Man Caught

Out Of Money On Pleasure Trip, Teacher Robs Store

NEW YORK, April 15—(UP)—Owen Wagner, 23, an eighth-grade school teacher in East Liverpool, O., had dreamed for a long time of coming to the big city and seeing the bright lights.

He finally saved $150 for the trip from his meager salary and came here last Sunday to spend his Easter vacation. He brought a .38 caliber revolver with him for protection against the city slickers.

But visits to one nightclub after another used up his money faster than he had thought possible.

Yesterday morning he discovered he was completely broke and faced with a hotel bill.

Desperate, he put the .38 revolver in his pocket and went out for a walk. On Tenth avenue he entered the liquor store owned by Michael Anatlulo and drew out his gun. Anatlulo hurriedly handed over $47.

But when the amateur hold-up man ran out of the store, Anatlulo ran after him, calling for a policeman. Patrolman James Kelly took up the chase.

The policeman captured Wagner with a flying tackle. Wagner immediately drew his gun and put it to his head. But he had forgotten to slip the safety catch and the gun wouldn't fire. Patrolman Kelly knocked him out.

Salem dairies today announced another cent drop in the quart price of milk.

Effective today, quarts will retail at 17 cents and homogenized 18. A similar one-cent cut on all dairy products was made April 1.

The latest reduction affects only quarts of milk, a dairy spokesman explained.

A year ago milk was selling here for 21 and 22 cents a quart.

The price reductions are attributed to increased production of the fluid.

However, they said, if a freeze does occur the peach and plum blossoms will be damaged. Apple blossoms aren't developed far enough to be hurt by anything but a severe cold snap.

Most of the flower varieties would stand any expected cold weather, according to W. H. Matthews, veteran Salem horticulturist.

Snow was forecast for the mid-west as far south as St. Louis today, but the wintry postscript was expected to end by tonight.

The weather bureau said Chicago was the center of a mild storm area.

'HYPOCRISY' CHARGE FLUNG BY GROMYKO

Says U. S. Real Meaning In Pact Is Found In "Quick Attack" Talk

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—A final Russian charge of "hypocrisy" flung at the western powers wound up last night the first round of the battle over the North Atlantic pact in the United Nations Assembly.

Some delegates said they hoped that finished the fight for this session of the Assembly but others expressed belief the Russians would find an excuse to attack the North Atlantic pact again. The Assembly is expected to run at least a month longer.

Warren R. Austin, United States chief delegate, told the Assembly the North Atlantic pact is not aggressive; that the United States "abhors" war and does not want war with anyone.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, waited until Austin finished and then said Austin's speech concerning the defensive character of the pact was "thoroughly hypocritical and false."

Gromyko said the truth about the purposes of the pact would be found in speeches by American political leaders instead of by "pompous phrases about the struggle for peace and security."

He pointed to a recent speech by Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-MO) about the need for a quick attack in the event of a war with Russia, and by other such statements published in U. S. newspapers as examples of purposes of the pact.

Gromyko said, finally, that the statements made by Austin and by Hector McNeill, British minister of state, in the Assembly "are nothing but empty words."

Challenges Gromyko

McNeill challenged Gromyko yesterday to file a complaint against the North Atlantic pact if he felt it violated the U. N. charter.

The Assembly approved a long resolution calling for cooperation among the big powers and listing more than 30 courses of action as procedural subjects not liable to the veto. The vote was 43 to 6 (Russian bloc) with Burma and India abstaining. Russia's disagreement meant that the proposal would not be carried out since the Big Five must agree on it to make it effective.

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—Most house members headed home today for a ten-day "breather" before returning on April 25 to start a knockdown fight on labor legislation.

The prolonged Easter recess started last night, after the house ran its record of appropriations since Monday to $24,000,000,000, a peacetime high for one week.

The senate, delayed earlier this year by a filibuster over civil rights and long arguments over foreign aid, had to stay on the job. Its members will return Monday to debate on a long-range housing bill.

As house members started home, Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts told them they could "have done a remarkable job."

But he reminded the house that still ahead are federal aid for schools, repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, increases in minimum wages, taxes, health insurance and civil rights.

The house tally sheet on appropriation bills, McCormack said, is an "all time record."

To achieve that record, the house sent to the senate bills financing every department of government except congress for the next fiscal year. Usually, many such bills are still in committee stage at this time.

Clear Money Bills

The two biggest money bills of the year cleared minor house hurdles this week.

Besides passing the omnibus independent offices appropriation yesterday with a minimum of debate, the house sent to the senate Wednesday a $16,000,000,000 national defense measure and a $595,000,000 emergency bill for veterans' benefits.

The independent offices bill, carrying cash and contract authority totaling $7,575,821,181, cleared the house with only two minor changes.

One cut the selective service system's allotment for next year from $9,000,000 to $4,500,000. The other added $3,434,950 to the maritime commission fund for training young men for merchant sea duty.

Biggest allotment in the omnibus bill is $5,145,431,940 for the veterans administration. The Atomic Energy commission received $1,090,120,397.

The house overrode a budget bureau request for cancellation of $237,000,000 in previously voted authorization for construction of veterans hospitals.

The effect of the budget bureau recommendation, had it not been upset, would have been to cut the long range program by 24 hospitals and curtail the capacity of 15 others. An estimated 16,000 beds would have been eliminated.

Every agency in the measure took a cut from the President's budget requests. The overall cut was $735,745,649, with the Veterans' Administration trimmed more than half a billion dollars.

The total in the bill includes $7,103,506,553 in cash and $472,316,628 in contract authority. The President wanted $7,775,568,830 cash and $538,000,000 contract authority.

The total $508,750,000 veterans' cut still leaves the administration with $14,977,940 more than congress gave it this year, exclusive of the $585,000,000 emergency fund voted Wednesday.

U. N. Oversold

John Foster Dulles has made a valuable suggestion about the United Nations. In a recent speech to a group of advertising men, he borrowed the jargon of their occupation to explain that U. N. was oversold; that its friends had led the public to expect too much from it.

This has caused widespread disappointment. With disappointment has come bitterness and a demand that U. N. either be abandoned or revised. Its critics sneer that it is "only a debating society"—and that, says Mr. Dulles, is exactly what it is. He thinks the world needs a debating society more than it needs some of the things which the U. N. was expected to be. He is a member of the American delegation at the U. N. general assembly.

Mr. Dulles believes debate is the first stage in agreement. Before there can be common action there must be common judgement. The U. N. debates which seem meaningless today may be evolving the thoughts which will have the hardest impact on the world of tomorrow. It is potentially capable of doing a great deal because it is dealing with ideas. Mr. Dulles, who is part of it, has not lost hope because he never expected too much. Only those who expected too much and have no way of knowing what U. N. is doing are demanding that it be abandoned or made over.

The Tax Issue

Senator Bricker, who thinks the high cost of giveaway government is the biggest issue in public affairs, has prepared some evidence for Ohioans.

This state's share of the pending federal budget, he says, is $2,400,000,000—equal to 25 percent of the value of all real and personal property in the whole state. And this is only one budget. "There will be many more like it, unless there is a change of direction—billions on billions."

Senator Bricker points out further that the present federal budget is going to take the equivalent in taxes of $300 from every man, woman and child in Ohio—$1,200 for a family of three. That is an estimate to remember when Ohio communities run short of funds for everyday housekeeping expenses.

There is no shortage of funds in Washington. As the Hoover commission pointed out the other day, money's so plentiful at the place where George Washington first started to throw dollars away that $30,000,000 can be misplaced by a bookkeeping error and never missed. The federal government has ceased to be concerned with mere millions, it now thinks and talks in terms of billions.

But out where wealth is produced so it can be taxed to the limit, millions are still important. "Because it's millions that local government must have to pay their housekeeping expenses. They can't count on the giveaway credo to help them; the federal government has bigger fish to fry. The tax issue is taking root right there—at the place where Americans are growing conscious of the fact that a tax dollar collected by the federal government to be given away to someone else is a tax dollar that can't be spent for the direct benefit of the people who earned it."

In Case of War

The House un-American activities committee, which hasn't been making any news lately, will hold public hearings on the C. I. O. - United Electrical Workers next month. That should make up its deficit in news.

The committee has gathered considerable information about this union—and 24-odd witnesses invited to testify at the hearing should furnish more. It's no secret what the committee is trying to find out.

It wants to determine, for the guidance of congress, whether the tolerance which U. E. spokesmen always claim as a constitutional right would be reciprocated in the event the United States went to war with Russia.

This does not imply that all members of the union are suspected of possible disloyalty. It means that certain leaders of the union are suspected of having other things on their mind besides the improvement of working conditions for their constituents.

The Un-American Activities committee is being realistic about a condition in national affairs—that there are people masked as unionists who would use their authority to commit sabotage in an emergency. Some did it at the beginning of World War II. Some of them are still around and still busy. The Un-American Activities committee wants to know more about United Electrical Workers. President Truman will make no remarks about a red herring this time.

Valley Plans

In September, 1944, President Truman asked congress to give early consideration to a plan patterned after Tennessee Valley Authority for most of the territory west of the Mississippi. He laid special emphasis on the Missouri river basin, where governors of eight states had shown interest in development with federal funds. He included the Arkansas river watershed from the Mississippi to its Colorado source, also the Columbia river watershed covering Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

In January, 1949, a voluntary group of federal and state agencies dealing with the Pick-Sloan plan for the Missouri valley adopted a six-year program calling for approximately 2 1/2 billion of federal money. This was to be only a beginning. TVA, a less ambitious project, has received less than a billion in its 15-year term of development, though its expenses are still continuing.

In these major projects already receiving funds, Mr. Truman now proposes the addition of a Columbia valley administration to develop hydro-electric power, irrigation, flood control and land resources in the Missouri valley. The plan is to be a major project in the nation's development. It is a plan to be a major project in the nation's development. It is a plan to be a major project in the nation's development.

lar section of the country should be developed with public money drawn from existing wealth and production, there is no end in sight to spending. A transfer of responsibility from private to public funds has been authorized, and thereafter the public funds are held to be inexhaustible.

CONFLICTING and confused situations are likely to prove critical, according to the contradictory astrological aspects. The mentality, impulses, feelings and emotions seem to be pulling in different directions, with issues of major significance at stake.

Although the mind is keyed to clever ideas and the impulses are under shrewd intuitive drives for exceptional performance, yet a lack of cooperation from desired quarters or an error in judgment, may block progress. In a crisis it may be advantageous to rely on personal appeal or subtle tactics. Make the most of glamour, social factors, or good will.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a period of perplexity and confusion, in which the mind and the emotions may be pulling in different directions.

Important matters are up for decision, and while the mind is profound, serious and farseeing, yet more personal, social, sentimental or ambitious, drives may stress the intimate element rather than the more practical.

Finance, career, as well as professional social and romantic contacts may be jeopardized by a false step or snap judgments. Pause before commitments in all relations.

Brighter Outlook For Middle-Aged

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

THE woman approaching middle age today is far more fortunate than were her mother and grandmother at the same stage in life. In their day, little could be done to relieve the many distressing symptoms which so frequently accompany the change of life. The nervousness, the mental depression, and such physical symptoms as pain in the joints simply had to be endured. Today, most if not all of them can be controlled by the use of certain glandular extracts called estrogens.

These substances have been analyzed as to their chemical content and can now be duplicated in the laboratory so that the doctor has his choice of either the natural or manufactured form.

Sufficient Amount

The chief consideration in using either is to give a sufficient amount to control the untoward symptom. This will vary from patient to patient, and for the same patient at different times. Large amounts are often required in the beginning but these can be reduced gradually. Small doses at frequent intervals give better results than larger ones at longer intervals, according to Dr. Elmer L. Seyringhaus.

Estrogens may be given by mouth. However, if this is done, larger doses are required. Estrogens dissolved in oil may be given by injection into a muscle. The effects last for from five to ten days, but some local reaction frequently occurs.

Sometimes, pellets of the estrogens are placed in the tissue under the skin. This gives a prolonged effect, but may also cause scar tissue to form around the pellet.

Estrogens in water solution can be injected under the skin where they will remain active for several days. Sometimes, preparations prepared chemically, when taken by mouth, cause nausea, or sickness at the stomach.

Another use of these estrogens is to stimulate the growth of the breast tissues and of the womb. However, such treatment must also always be carefully carried out by the doctor.

Excessive dosage of the estrogens may cause menstrual bleeding and excessive enlargement of the breasts, as well as nervousness.

Estrogens should not be given to patients suspected of having cancer. Hence, those who are taking estrogens should have examinations at regular intervals by the doctor.

Ohioans Bought $901,916 Less Liquor This Year

COLUMBUS, April 15.—(UP)—Ohioans bought $901,916 less liquor from state stores during the first 13 weeks of this year than they did during the same period a year ago, the state liquor department reported today.

HOOVER GROUP STICKS BY ITS BLAST AT ARMY

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—Striking back at Army criticism, a Hoover commission task force insisted today the Army had padded its original 1950 budget requests.

The subcommittee of the government reorganization group flatly denied its report on the national military establishment contained ten "misstatements of fact," as alleged by Secretary of the Army Royall.

It said the Army's comments disputing the task force findings actually "confirm the committee's report in every instance and in practically every detail."

For example, it said, its report the army had once "asked for funds to modernize 102 more tanks than it possessed: Was absolutely true. The task force said the discrepancy wasn't noted until its own investigators pointed it out.

It said much the same thing about a clerical error which added $30,000,000 to another army budget figure.

The commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover based a series of recommendations for government changes partly on the reports of its task force.

Austin Cuts Prices

NEW YORK, April 15.—(AP)—The Austin Motor Co. Ltd. of England today reduced prices on five models by $75 to $200.

"Double-head" playing cards—those which may be read from either side—with indices in the corners did not become standard until about 1870, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Low Tree Limb Damages Truck

A low, overhanging tree limb on E. State st., near McKinley school, caused this damage to a tractor-trailer driven by William Kosturbiak of Lansdale, Pa.

The driver pulled to the side of the street and the limb ripped the big aluminum trailer. He and his helper survey the damage.

The limb might have caused a serious accident, had the truck been moving at a faster rate of speed.

SIDE GLANCES

Victorian Lady Sets The Style

WE, THE WOMEN

Even people with children of their own often find it hard going when they try to make friends with someone else's child.

Here are a few rules to make a first meeting easier for the grown-up and especially for the child:

Don't rush at a child, or gush over him or ask to be kissed. Approach a child with as much restraint as you would another grownup.

Don't ask the child a lot of silly questions. It's pretty dumb to ask "What's that you're playing with?" when you already know the answer. At least it seems dumb to the child.

No Comment

Don't comment on the child's appearance. Such personal comments usually end up with the child hanging his head in embarrassment and trying to dig a hole through the rug with the toe of one shoe.

Don't make adult wisecracks at the child's expense. You may get a laugh from the grownups present, but the child won't enjoy it.

Don't start rough-housing with the child if you don't want to get him in trouble. Remember you'll be ready to stop long before he is—and Mama will have to step in and squelch him.

Don't give him a present and quickly prompt him to say "Thank you." The grownup who does that needs to have his own manners corrected.

DAMASCUS

The Damascus Hustlers 4-H club will meet Tuesday evening, April 19, in Quaker Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Oesch and daughters, Gladys and Rachel, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Oesch of Salem gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Oesch of Berlin Center Tuesday evening. The event honored the birthday anniversary of H. E. Oesch. Games, a social time and a lunch were enjoyed.

Rec. C. R. McPherson attended the Ministerial Institute of the Allegheny conference at the West-levan Methodist church in Greenville, Pa., Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Baird has returned to her home in Deerfield, improved, after being cared for by her daughter, Mrs. Dwight Phillips, for two weeks.

Kendra Phillips, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Phillips, fell on a glass which broke and cut her face, requiring four stitches to close.

Russell Shryffeler, who is attending Ohio State university, spent the weekend at home and attended

Tears In Statue Exhausted Today

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 15—(AP)—Shirley Anne Martin said today her broken statue of St. Ann no longer "shed tears" when she kissed it.

The 11-year-old girl reported at 9 a. m. no liquid substance has materialized on the painted face of the plaster replica since her appearance with the image on a television program at 7:45 p. m. yesterday.

She said in the intervening time she had tried repeatedly, but without success, to bring to the eyes of the statue what many witnesses who had seen previous demonstrations called "tears."

Repeatedly since the girl picked up the head of the broken statue after it had been discarded April 2, she had kissed the figurine, after which, scores of witnesses said, a watery substance coursed down the cheeks.

Meantime, the devout, the curious and the skeptical gathered in greater numbers today in front of the Martin house, many hoping for a Good Friday miracle. Some want the liquid for curative attempts.

The little girl, who has stirred international attention, appeared at a side window of the second-floor Martin flat with her statue head briefly this morning while about 100 spectators stood below. Then she was taken away in an automobile.

The child's mother Mrs. Arthur E. Martin, said plans for the day included attending Good Friday mass this noon at St. Vincent's church.

Mrs. Martin told a reporter: "We don't claim any miracles. We don't claim to be healers. It just happened and we have opened our house for whatever it may be worth."

However, the "open house" policy was abandoned in the face of increasing crowds. Doors to the flat were locked this morning.

Moisture May Be Too Much For Corn

COLUMBUS, April 15 — (UP)—Ohio farmers were warned today that corn that has kept well during cold weather may have moisture enough to rot or mold in the warm spring weather.

K. D. Peterson, extension marketing specialist at Ohio State university, recommended an immediate inspection of cribbed corn.

Peterson said that even if the corn was sufficiently dry when cribbed last fall, snow may have drifted into slatted cribs, roof leaks may have caused moist pockets, and heating may have started in spots where accumulations of trash or shelled corn have choked off good ventilation.

The marketing expert suggested that farmers move and sort the corn immediately, removing any doubtful corn to other storage places. Shelled corn, husks, dirt and other foreign material also should be removed, Peterson said.

He pointed out that corn must not exceed 17.5 per cent moisture content to be eligible for a loan of from $1.46 to $1.52 per bushel, depending upon the location in Ohio. At the present time, the market price for such corn in Central Ohio ranges from $1.20 to $7.30 per bushel.

Low-Pay City Man Seen Gaining In New Farm Program

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—Government farm economists say that, if you are a low income city dweller you would get the most direct benefit from the proposed new farm program.

They say the program would hold down grocery bills. Since the low income man puts out a larger part of his income for food than does his richer neighbor, his saving would be greater in proportion.

The program might, indirectly, cost the high-income man money. With his high income, he pays high taxes, and it is proposed that the farm program be financed with tax money. Therefore the high-income man certainly would be carrying a heavier part of the load even if actual taxes were not increased to carry the farm program.

Charles F. Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, worked out the new farm plan with the depression of the 30s vividly in mind. He believes that low prices for farm products, cutting the incomes of farmers, was an important factor in starting the depression.

At the same time, he says, city

Jailed by Czechs

to keep down prices the consumer pays.

Under some previous price support programs the government took some of the crop out of the market—even destroyed portions of it.

The purpose was to reduce the quantity available to the public, thus intensify demand and boost the prices the consumer had to pay. This is the philosophy of scarcity.

The economists say the new plan would tend to reduce some food prices for the consumer because it would encourage the farmer to grow abundant supplies, yet maintain his income.

Brannan says even heavy taxpayers stand to benefit under the farm program because it would stabilize U. S. economic conditions to have a "solid" farm program.

Rep. Pace (D-Ga.) has objected to the new plan. He says there is no guarantee that any lower prices for farm products will be passed on to the people who have to buy food.

He says the middlemen—people who process food and sell it to the public—may be able to buy from the farmer at lower prices but that they won't pass on these lower costs to the consumer.

Columbiana Horse Show Considered

COLUMBIANA, April 15—A horse show and a memorial parade were subjects of discussion at the April meeting of the Columbiana Saddle and Bridle club at Valley Golf club Wednesday evening.

Horse shows and memorial parades have been held every year since the club was organized. If a show is held this summer, it will be either here or at the Lisbon fairgrounds, and the memorial parade, if held, will be in Columbiana on the Sunday nearest Decoration day. Both will be considered further at the May meeting.

Clifford Ulmer of Youngstown showed pictures of European scenery. President Chester Burbick led group singing.

Invited To Youngstown

Pandora Rebekah lodge of Columbiana has been invited to attend a meeting in V. F. W. hall, Youngstown, tomorrow evening when the decoration of chairs will be conferred on candidates from all Rebekah lodges in this part of the state.

Skating Party Planned

Troop 1, Girl Scouts, at its meeting Wednesday evening, decided to have a skating party next Wednesday evening. Scouts will meet at the Legion home at 7. Cars will be provided by parents to take them to Kelly's park.

George M. Griffith, secretary of the Farm Labor Association of Northeastern Ohio, who has been disabled some weeks by sciatic rheumatism, is able to be around again.

Club Ends Season

The Music Study club concluded the season with its April meeting in the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. As a remaining event, it will sponsor a program in the Methodist church, Sunday evening, May 1, inaugurating National Music week.

Guest artists of the evening were Claude Carlson, member of the San Antonio, Texas, Symphony orchestra, who played several viola solos, with Mrs. Carlson, the former Miss Mimi Culp of Columbiana, as his accompanist, and Miss Georgiana Beaver of Leetonia, violinist in violin and viola duets with Mr. Carlson. Miss Beaver will graduate this spring from the Cleveland Institute of Music.

Mrs. Ralph Luck and Mrs. Fred Detwiler, members of the club, played piano solos.

Mrs. R. E. Weaver and Mrs. Virginia Felger, librarians at the public library, reviewed the book, "The Other Side of the Record."

Hostesses were Miss Leona Ehrhart and Miss DeErla Smith.

The club decided to sponsor a benefit bridge party May 11.

Open church will be observed in the Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 2:30 for the marriage of Miss Martha Patchen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Patchen, Duquesne st., and Glenn Cope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Cope, south of Columbiana.

Kindergarten Meeting

The Kindergarten Mothers club held its April meeting in the High school Tuesday evening and made plans for the children's participation in the school concert May 3, when the Kindergarten group will sing four numbers.

A treat of Easter baskets of candy was distributed to the children Thursday by Mrs. Marjorie Ritchie and Mrs. Patricia Richardson. Refreshments were served Tuesday evening by Mrs. Lucille Murphy, Mrs. Ada Douglas and Mrs. Dorothy Murphy.

The club will meet in the High school next Thursday evening at 7:30 to make costumes for the spring concert.

Railroad Project

While the work of re-ballasting the south track of the Pennsylvania railroad for eastbound trains between Homewood Junction, Pa., and Leetonia is in progress, only the north track for westbound trains is being used for all trains through here between those points, a distance of about 28 miles.

A ballasting machine is being used and railroad men report that the work will take about three months. C. J. Hartzell of Struthers, agent for the Y. & E. railway in Columbiana, has resumed his duties after an absence of about a year due to injuries received in a fall. He spent some months in a veterans' hospital, repeating an experience of about three years at the end of World war I. He still has to use crutches.

DETROIT, April 15—(AP)—Hudson Motor Car Co. joined the price-cutting parade today.

The auto firm slashed prices $15 to $100 on all models. It is the seventh car manufacturer to do so.

Reductions included $15 off on super six models, $25 off on the Super six convertible, $35 off on the Super six convertible with hardtop and $40 off on the Commodore six convertible.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—I'd be a pretty puzzled pigeon if I'd been sitting out in the middle of the United States the past two weeks, trying to figure out congress.

The talkative senate, with only 96 members, took two weeks to approve the Marshall plan for Europe for another year; but the house with 435 members took only about 17 hours.

For those two weeks the senate spent almost every minute haggling over the Marshall plan; except for the 17 hours on the plan, the house used the two weeks to race through a lot of other things.

The reason: In the senate there's no limit on debate; in the house there is.

OF COURSE, IF house debate weren't limited, its 435 members could use up a whole session debating one bill. So gabfests have to be limited there.

The senate, whose 96 dignified members bend over backwards being polite to one another, wants no gag on talking and feels it still can get its work done.

That's debatable. If the senate keeps up its present slow rate, it's doubtful much of the program President Truman promised the voters last November can get through. But, then, it's doubtful much of it would be passed anyway.

Altogether now the senate has been talking about six weeks. Except for a couple of days spent on passing new rent controls, the senate has used those weeks on just two main subjects: Civil rights and the Marshall plan. Everything else had to wait.

It used up between three weeks and a month in a filibuster on the civil rights program. That was shoved aside in the end and probably suffered a mortal blow for the rest of this session.

Then, after a brief pause to vote for 15 months more of rent controls, the senate turned to the Marshall plan and talked till last week-end.

When it got into the plan there were long discourses that touched only remotely on it. And there were almost endless discourses on amendments, of which there were plenty.

AMENDMENTS ARE changes which a senator suggests be made in a bill. For instance, Senator Taft, Ohio Republican, offered one to cut Marshall plan spending 10 per cent. That was defeated—for the time being, anyway.

So, besides talking for days on the Marshall plan itself, the senate talked for days on the amendments. It was different in the house. There amendments were offered, too, but on some of them each congressman who wanted to speak was limited to about 50 seconds.

But even after all the talk in both houses, the last word hasn't been said on the Marshall plan.

For all both houses did was approve letting the Marshall plan continue for another year. But — and this is important — it hasn't voted any money to keep it going.

It will get around to voting on the money in a few weeks. That will certainly mean more senate debate and more proposals to cut down the money for it. The house, of course, will do a quicker job.

See Leveling Off Trend In Real Estate Loans

CLEVELAND, April 15 — (UP)—The Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland said today the most deflationary development of the first quarter of 1949 at fourth district banks was the leveling off in real estate loans.

The bank, in its monthly business review, said such loans stopped rising early in last December, and since that time the volume of new loans made has been barely equal to what is probably a record repayment rate.

On the whole, the bank said, the banking situation so far this year has been "somewhat contradictory." It labeled recent changes "moderately favorable in contrast to the trends in production, employment and the general price level."

Wanted: A Head Man for This Family

Mrs. Elena LeBaron, a 30-year-old divorcee in Salt Lake City, Utah, has appealed to a local newspaper for help in her search for a husband "who likes children." The pretty housewife is pictured with her eight children, ranging in age from 12 years to four months. She was divorced last fall from Ross W. LeBaron, 35, a self-styled "prophet" once convicted of advocating polygamy. The children, top, left to right, are: Ross, 6; Jennie Lou, 2; Charles, 8, and LeGrand, 3; bottom, left to right: David, 4 months; Elena, 12; Rosalinda, 8, and May, 10.

CLAIMS GOP NOW WITH HIM ON HIS LABOR LAW VIEWS

By BRUCE MOSSAT
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, April 15 — Rep. Brehm (R-Ohio) said today that Republican house leaders have swung around to his views on the issue of repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Brehm told a reporter that a GOP-backed labor bill now ready for introduction represents a "vindication" of the proposals he voiced last December. He is a member of the house labor committee.

The new bill is designed as a sharply modified version of the Wood bill, which was drafted as a substitute for the Lesinski measure voted out by the committee.

Brehm said the revised Wood bill contains a repeal of the Taft-Hartley act and reinstatement of the old Wagner law, but with more pronounced modifications than set forth in the Lesinski bill. In other words, it would retain more features of the Taft-Hartley act.

Brehm said the decision to offer a revised Wood bill was taken by GOP leaders at a strategy session of the party steering committee Tuesday.

"They adopted the course I advocated last December," he said. "I was for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act because it is plainly a source of irritation in management-labor relations. We have to get rid of it if only to be free of the name."

"At the same time it was decided to present a measure that represented an effort to get a better balance between management and labor than the Wagner act provided. This again was the course I have long favored."

Brehm indicated he believes the Republican proposals have a good chance when the labor bill comes up for debate in the house after the Easter recess.

He remained conscious during rescue efforts despite a crushed leg which was later amputated.

Government Will Guide Inflation

CLEVELAND, April 15—(AP)—The Cleveland Trust Co.'s monthly business bulletin commented today that "any renewal of inflationary pressures rest largely on the course of action taken by the government itself."

It continued: "More and more government spending along with the resumption of continuous federal deficits would certainly point in that direction."

The bank named two deflationary moves by the Federal Reserve board—easing regulations on consumer credit, and reducing the cash margin for the purchase of stocks. Then it added, "in spite of all this, there have been frequent pronouncements from Washington on the danger of further inflation" and the need of combatting it with government controls.

The bulletin predicted the Federal Reserve's index of all industrial production for March would be about four or five per cent below the peace-time high of last October and November.

The spread of price declines to non-farm commodities in February and March shows "evidence of a return to a truly competitive market" and that "inflationary pressures have lost their force during the last few months," said the bank.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why does a piece of metal feel colder than a piece of wood, even though both have been in a room of constant temperature for some time?

A—This is because metals are better heat conductors than wood. When you touch the metal surface, heat is carried away from your hand more rapidly than when you touch wood. Thus, even though both are at the same temperature, so long as they are below body temperature, the metal cools your hand more.

Q—How did the custom of docking a dog's tail start?

A—The ancient Romans started it. They believed that all the evil of the animal was located in his tail and if they cut it off the dog wouldn't bite or cause trouble.

Q—Who has been called the "Copernicus of the 20th century"?

A—Albert Einstein, who celebrated his 70th birthday this year.

Q—For what was Robert G. Ingersoll noted?

A—This distinguished orator became an international figure because of his liberal stand on religion. An agnostic, he challenged the clergy of all denominations and held many spirited debates on religious subjects.

Q—What is the translation of the word "Bolshevik"?
A—Bolshevik means "the larger" and in the instance of the Bolshevik Party it means the majority of the Socialist Party after it split up in 1905. The conservative socialists were known as the Mensheviks.

Homers Come In Drove In Games Yesterday

Everyone Clouting Them; Cleveland Hits 5 In Game

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—It looks like a good year for small boys who perch on rooftops around major league baseball parks. Home runs are coming in droves.

The season doesn't open until next week and the big league parks are a few sizes larger than most minor league enclosures, but take a look at what happened yesterday.

Fifteen major league teams—12 of them facing major league opposition—hit 30 home runs in exhibition.

Four of the clubs hit three homers in a single inning. Only the Chicago Cubs failed to put the ball out of the lot at least once.

Murderers' row on the New York Giants—Sid Gordon, Johnny Mize and Bobby Thompson—blasted successive round trippers off Cleveland's Bobby Feller. The Indians retaliated with three in a row off Dave Koza by Bob Kennedy, Jim Hegan and Early Wynn.

And for good measure Koza added one for New York and Lou Boudreau and Mickey Vernon each had one for Cleveland. All this firing took place in Hickory, N. C.

The Chicago White Sox whipped Pittsburgh, 4-3, at Memphis on the strength of home runs by Floyd Weger and Cass Michaels. Each came with one on base.

Homers also decided the issue as Cincinnati edged the New York Yankees, 3-1; the Philadelphia Phils downed Baltimore, 6-3, and the Boston Red Sox beat the Boston Braves, 6-2.

Cincinnati's tallies came on a home run by Ray Mueller from a man on base. Johnny Lindell's circuit clouter was the only Yankee counter. Del Ennis, Eddie Miller and Stan Lopata all connected in the fourth inning for the Phils.

And Johnny Pesky's one-on-blast clinched the Boston City series game for the American leaguers.

The Philadelphia Athletics got three in an inning against Savannah, Ga.—by Ferris Fain, Hank Majeski and Buddy Rosar.

Five for one club was tops for the day with the honors going to Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns. Dick Kohas of the Browns was the only player to get more than one. He got a pair. Al Zarilla, Jerry Priddy and Ken Wood got one each as the Browns whipped Texarkana of the Big State league, 9-1.

Washington, the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn were held to one apiece, but Brooklyn's—by Billy Cox—gave the Dodgers a 3-2 edge over the Senators at Washington. Clyde Vollmer hit one for Washington and Red Schoendienst for St. Louis.

First practices will be this evening and Sunday afternoon. All who may be interested in having places on the team will be welcome.

RICHMOND, Va.—Bobby Feller will hurl his eighth season opener for the Cleveland Indians when the Tribe meets the St. Louis Browns in their home park Tuesday.

The shuffling fireballer got his first opening assignment in 1938. He hurled three more before the war and then, following service in the Navy, started again in 1946.

This year, however, is the first in which Feller has been available, and the assignment has been in doubt. It wasn't until last night that Manager Lou Boudreau of the Indians announced that Feller definitely would be on the mound Tuesday.

In the Tribe's last three opening contests, Feller has allowed a total of only two runs. He blanked the Chicago White Sox, 1 to 0 in 1946, then lost to them, 2 to 0, the next year. Last season, he shut out the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 0.

Boudreau said he would wait until tomorrow to pick the rest of his lineup for the curtain raiser.

RICHMOND, Ind.—Fresh from a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees, the Redlegs of Cincinnati moved into this eastern Indiana city today for a game with the Indianapolis Indians.

Manager Bucky Walters said he would start Millard Howell, a big right-hander who may turn out to be the surprise of the Cincinnati mound corps.

The six-foot, two-inch native of Bowman, Ky., has impressed Redleg bigwigs during the spring training and exhibition season and, although he may not be a starter, he is expected to be the Reds' No. 2 fireman behind Reliever Harry Gumbert. Howell had a 17-12 record with Syracuse last year.

Catcher Ray Mueller's two-run homer in the fifth inning was the winning blow for the Reds yesterday at Crosley field. The blow came after Ted Khawzewski had singled.

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—The New York Yankees, one of the biggest question marks of the American league pennant race, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, a leading National league contender, open their annual spring series today at Yankee stadium.

Vic Raschi, who won 19 games for the Yankees last season, was due to oppose Ralph Branca, ace of the Dodger staff.

ST. LOUIS—Their long spring training and exhibition grind completed, the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns were back home today for renewal of their annual two-game City series.

PHILADELPHIA—The Philadelphia Phillies—the National league's eighth place club in 1948—were pointing toward a first division spot today as they came home from their spring training jaunt.

The Phils—stronger than last year, particularly in the infield—prepared to test their power against the Philadelphia Athletics in the first game of a three-game City series.

PITTSBURGH—Hal Newhouser was nominated today as the starting pitcher for the Detroit Tigers when they meet the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first of a week-end exhibition series tomorrow. Manager Red Wolfe, who brought the Tigers to town for a stiff workout yesterday, directed another intensive drill today.

CHICAGO—The White Sox and Cubs hooked up in their annual preseason set-to for the inspection of home town fans today.

Howie Judson was assigned to pitch for the Sox in the opening game of the three-game series.

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

Warm, spring weather not only brings out the track stars and the city's softball fans, it turns one's thinking to the various other outdoor endeavors so popular in a city the size of Salem.

One of the newer outdoor angles here—that initiated last year at Scott Chisholm's recreation center—is boxing.

Scott hasn't indicated definitely just what his summer plans are in the way of boxing shows, but items appearing in city papers recently have brought forth impressively the quality of the shows Salem watched here last season without half realizing it.

Foremost among those who appeared in Salem on several occasions last year are Tommy Salem and Tommy DeSantis, both now virtually "big timers" in Cleveland through their conquests in the annual Golden Gloves tournament.

Salem, who tussled with Salem, Ohio's own Jimmy Quinn and appeared in other bouts here, did himself proud this winter by capturing a recent go against DeSantis, a Youngstown boxer who won the Golden Gloves bantamweight title. Salem is in the midst of a pretty winning streak and is billed Monday against Fred Vitelli, also a Glove champion, in a medical fund bout in Cleveland's Arena.

Vitelli, too, showed here last season along with a flock of other good fighters who made Salem's shows entertaining and worth watching.

Chisholm said last year that he intended to continue the bouts. Several were very well received by the fans who watched—and most did.

STATISTICS ON BASKETBALL NEED BOOK FORM, CLAIM

JOHNSTOWN, Pa.—(AP)—Do you know what two high school basketball teams played four scoreless periods before one finally edged out the other 2-0?

Steve Seman, a railroad office worker whose hobby is collecting sports statistics, has the answer to that one and a lot of others—and he thinks all should be compiled in a national scholastic basketball record book.

Seman says he had to bury his nose in a lot of papers across the nation before he was able to determine the answers to many questions. A record book would prove a boon to the many followers of high school basketball, he feels.

The lowest scoring high school basketball game took place in March, 1941, when the Las Animas Trojans and the La Junta Tigers met in a Colorado tournament playoff.

After four scoreless periods, one of the Las Animas players missed a long shot in the overtime period, but Douglas Coldwell, Trojan center, tipped in the ball for the only and winning goal.

The other extreme came in 1923 when Central High school of Kansas City, Kas., swamped Rainbow A. O., 234-2.

Seman is in favor of a revised scholastic scoring book with special columns for statistics—shots missed, assists and errors. Personal fouls and errors are potential scores for opponents, he says, just as they are in baseball.

In Seman's book Wallace (Wah) Jones, great Kentucky player this year behind the all-time four-year high school scoring record, Jones scored 3,398 points while playing with Harlan county high in Kentucky.

Walter Pierkarski of Chicago Tilden high scored 91 points in a single game against Dunbar high last year as his team won 132-22.

These and other marks should be available in record form for the students and followers of the nation's 17,000 high schools, 98 per cent of which have court teams, Seman says.

Dutch Leonard had the mound assignment for the Cubs.

BOSTON—Deadlocked in their City series—each with two victories this year behind the all-time four-year high school scoring record, Jones scored 3,398 points while playing with Harlan county high in Kentucky.

These and other marks should be available in record form for the students and followers of the nation's 17,000 high schools, 98 per cent of which have court teams, Seman says.

3 PROFESSORS ARE DISMISSED

Boston College Faculty Members Are Fired For Anti-Church Talk

NEWTON, Mass., April 15—(AP)—Three lay professors of Boston college, a leading Catholic institution of learning, and an instructor at Boston College high school charged today they had been dismissed because they accused the college of teaching three heresies.

Rev. William K. Keleher, S. J., president of B. C., said the three professors in the college spoke on matters contrary to the teachings of the Catholic church.

The educators said they were discharged after they declined to withdraw statements made in a letter to the provincial of the Jesuit order in New England that:

"At Boston college are taught, both implicitly and explicitly:

(1) That there may be salvation outside the Catholic church;

(2) That a man may be saved without admitting the Roman Catholic church to be supreme among all churches;

(3) That a man may be saved without submission to the Pope."

The educators are:

Fakhri Mauf, assistant professor of philosophy; James R. Walsh, instructor of philosophy; Charles Ewasko, assistant professor of physics, and David D. Supple, teacher of German at the high school.

Father Keleher issued the following statement this morning concerning the three men who taught at the college:

"These gentlemen in question were under contract at Boston college to teach philosophy and physics. They had been cautioned by me and others in authority here to stay within their own field and leave theology to those who were adequately and competently prepared. They continued to speak in class and out of class on matters contrary to the traditional teachings of the Catholic church, ideas leading to bigotry and intolerance.

"This doctrine is erroneous and as such could not be tolerated at Boston college. They were informed that they must cease such teaching or leave our faculty."

Rev. James Kelley, S. J., president of Boston college high school, said Supple had not been "dismissed at the moment." He added he had not had time to consider the case but would issue a statement later.

Coal Mining Had Most Strike Stoppages In '48

WASHINGTON, April 15—(UP)—Coal mining had more work stoppages and strike idleness than any other industry in 1948, the Labor department reported today in final figures on work stoppages.

There were 615 separate stoppages in mining, 561 of them in the bituminous coal fields and 26 in anthracite. The others were in metal mines.

The coal strikes caused a loss of 424 per cent of working time in the industry. The average for all industry in general was 37/100ths of one per cent.

The coal stoppages included the long pension strike in the spring by the United Mine Workers and their walkout in July in mines owned by steel companies. The strikes caused 9,834,000 man days of idleness.

Kentucky bluegrass is strictly green with no bluish tinge at all.

Jury Finds Cantonian Guilty of Raping Girl

CANTON, April 15—John L. Sullivan, Jr., 24, of Canton, was found guilty today of raping a six-year-old school girl Feb. 18.

The jury of four women and eight men deliberated exactly an hour before arriving at their verdict. A life sentence is mandatory under such a conviction, but sentence will not be pronounced until after disposition of a new trial plea. Then Sullivan would go to Lima State hospital for psychiatric observation before going to the penitentiary.

Sullivan was identified point-blank during the trial both by the victim and by the seven-year-old girl companion who was with her when she was picked up. They were on their way home from school. The victim was hospitalized several weeks.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE — With Major Hoople
AREN'T YOU THE TYCOON WHO WAS SCORPING MILLIONS OUT OF AN ORE MINE LAST WEEK?—AND NOW A TOOTHACHE SLOGAN CONTEST—TELLING FOLKS HOW TO "KEEP THAT SNAP IN YOUR MAP!"—SAY, I'D BETTER HAVE YOUR KNOBS X-RAYED!
ESAD, MARTHA! YOU SNEER AT MY EFFORT AS IF IT WERE A CHILD'S GAME OF JACKS!—IF YOU REALIZED HOW MUCH SCIENCE, PSYCHOLOGY, MUSIC, LOGIC, PHILOSOPHY, LITERARY SKILL AND SALES ART I'M COMPOUNDING INTO THIS LABOR, YOU'D SAY!

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES
S'LONG, BOOTS!
WELL, I'LL DECLARE! PUG IS CERTAINLY ACTING STRANGELY LATELY!
DANEY, DO YOU HAVE ANY IDEA WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT?
JEEP! HE LOVE ROSIE!
O-H-O-O!

BLONDIE
DAD THE GARBAGE MAN IS AT THE BACK DOOR
TELL HIM WE DON'T WANT ANY
YOU MISUNDERSTOOD ME, DAD—I SAID IT WAS THE GARBAGE MAN
OH... TELL HIM WE WANT SOME
HE'S NOT SELLING ANYTHING
WELL, THEN, WHAT DOES HE WANT?
IT'S JUST A SOCIAL CALL

CAPTAIN EASY
HE'S UPSTAIRS, BEN—LOOKING MORE LIKE HIS OLD SELF AGAIN!
BETTER NOT LET 'IM OUT OF YOUR SIGHT YET, EASY!
SURELY HE WOULDN'T START DRINKING NOW... AFTER WHAT HE'S JUST GONE THRU TO SEE CATHY!
JUST BEFORE ANY BIG EVENT—WHEN IT'S VERY IMPORTANT TO STAY SOBER—IS A DANGEROUS TIME FOR AN ALCOHOLIC, PAL.
HE'S APT TO LOSE ALL CONTROL BEFORE HE REALIZES WHAT'S HAPPENING.
HOW'S THE BOY, GIG?
STILL A BIT JITTERY, PAGO, BUT I'M GOING TO SEE CATHY TOMORROW!

THE GUMPS
JUST SHOWS HOW RIGHT!—AND THE MYSTERY IS SO SIMPLE
WELL, PEOPLE!—YOU WERE WILLING TO BELIEVE I'D BE A DEVOTED SON AND SHRINK MYSELF AT WILL!
AMAZING! AN EXACT REPLICA OF PROFESSOR MOOSEY—JUST TWENTY-FIVE INCHES TALL!
